

ETHEL MURDOCH

Her remarks show the impress of thought
And remembrance of all that's been taught;
A thirst after more
And knowledge galore
From both books and observance that's got.

PAUL DALE

Our Paul has acquired some fame,
There'll soon be some more to his name;
With straight ones and curves,
With droplets and swerves,
He brings the home team through the game.

WARD TURVEY

Ward Turvey is one of our brightest,
His heart is always the lightest;
Although he is young,
His life's well begun,
Mais en francais il montre sa finesse.

DORA ANDERSON

The form's youngest one is Miss Dora;
She's great in her studies, begorra!
She plays dandy ball
'Gainst girls that are tall,
And she much prefers fauna to flora.

ELSIE MILLER

Elsie is bonny and bright,
To sing is her greatest delight.
A nightingale voice
Would be her own choice—
A maiden whom fame cannot slight.

WILLIAM ROBERTSON

Oh, Bill is a guy we all like,
Even when his brain's on a strike;
That's not often, we know,
Though sometimes it's so,
But when working it's really all right.

NELLIE HENDRICKSON

Our Nellie is clever and wise,
True knowledge shines out of her eyes;
In math, she is swell,
In physics as well;
And we've no better sport whom we prize.

HAZEL KEELER

Hazel Keeler is known everywhere,
With brown eyes and short, pretty hair,
She's as cute as she's clever,
And I'll say that whenever She's with Lillian they make quite a pair.
