

HORTON CHANNELL

Horton proves to be a worthy asset on first base for the IV. A & F baseball team.

Favorite occupation—Absorbing French, Latin and English.

EDWARD GREST

Ed. Grest is a deep thinking gink,
He'll discover the great missing link,
He's studying now
The why, which and how
Of that wonderful mystery, I think.

ALLEGRA YOUMANS

The counterpart of Milton's
L'Allegro. "It is worry that kills,
not work."

GRACE McKENZIE

Grace McKenzie is her name,
And to teach will be her aim,
In our great nation
Assimilation
Will beckon many more to fame.

ABE REINHORN

"Good things are done up in small parcels." That's Abe in a nutshell.
His aim—to grow bigger.

LOUIS SKAFEL

He hails Lief Ericson's strand,
And he comes seeking fame in this land.
But in prose, not in verse,
For better or worse,
Will be found the results of his
"hand."

JEAN McCALLUM

A calm, then a breeze, and down
comes the storm.
She comes like a cyclone, at nine in
the morn;
On the diamond or court
She's always a sport,
And in class she's the life of the form.

EVELYN SHAKESPEARE

Her charming smile would melt an iceberg and turn a rainy day into sunshine.

RUTH SPARLING

Favorite pastime—Trying on other people's shoes.

Ambition—To find the "prime."
Judging by her work in the classroom we are sure Ruth's future will be crowned with success.

ARCHIE SILLERS

An enthusiastic student in literature, he hopes some day to master French. As a ball player he gives promise of becoming a Quaker.

FRANK WILHELM

Favorite saying—"The early bird catches the worm."

Hobby—Collecting poetry.
Ambition—To become editor of the Sutherland Globe.

EDITH TAYLOR

Why was the Quick Lunch Club so successful this year? Edith knows.
Latin is a favorite on her menu.

MARY FORBES

A delightful companion is Mary.
It's certain she's never contrary;
Her bright interviews
Will be read in the news,
For her talents are quite literary.

EARL CUNNINGHAM

Ambition—To become a second Caruso.
Favorite author—Green.
Favorite saying—"Forty love and
then deuce."

SIDNEY McARTON

A wonderful boy is Sir Sid,
You ought to look under his lid.
He may seem rather plain,
But, Oh Boy! what a brain!
Let's take off our caps to the kid.

DULCINA MACKIE

Dulcina is cheerful and happy,
A nurse for some unlucky chappie;
But if her employer
Should try to annoy her,
She'll say, "My cheque, please, make
it snappy!"
