

Sarah Weiler enjoys top hats, morgues, the coast and creating a la cuisine. She plans to finish school next year as spring fever bit her early this year.

Edwin Wong, an honour roll student, involved himself in track and field and table tennis. His library experiences are bound to help while attending the University's Commerce program.

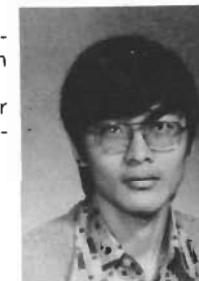

Colette Wheler was heavily involved in Grad Decorations, Sr. Volleyball, Drama, Lit Nite and honour rolling. She hopes to be accepted for Canada World Youth. Her future may include finally becoming the worst at something. Rick wrote this.

Doug Wooooo, artist extraordinaire for the N.C. Eye, curled (Sr.), organized and co-financed Nutana's table tennis tournament and played in same. Doug maintains an incredibly high average while working in a night-club and playing snooker. Plans? Pre-med and a fleet of Trans-Ams

Rita Woodcock holds down a full time job and involved herself in curling and the Pep Club besides. Marriage plans are part of the near future for Rita. Best of luck!

Sandy Wu came to Nutana in grade 11 and finished 1st semester this year. She is now taking Administration at the U. of S., Regina Campus.

Corcoran Yeung. With such a beautiful name, Corcoran cannot go wrong. He hopes to further his education in university.

Lori Wilson was involved in the SRC, Hermes, Drama, Lit Nite and a dozen other things as well. She plans to attend school in Ottawa and then go into interior design. Lori may be seen dancing her way across Canada.

Kelly Wood bides his time between cars and girls. He chose Nutana over W.M. because of the lack of parking facilities there. Kelly can put a fine hole in any wall.

Irene Wright owns and rides her own horse and enjoys fishing, hunting and training dogs. She plans to attend the Saskatoon Business College for a Medical Secretarial Course. She may become special secretary to Mr. Ed.

Tony Yau was a blast in Drama and the N.C. Eye, hopefully a little quieter in the library. Tony (Ling) hopes to enter university.

Felice Yim finished grade 12 early and now attends university in Regina. He is actively involved with fencing. Felice may become the 5th Musketeer.
